WANT BIGGER SALARIES PAID

At the meeting of the Bar Association held Friday afternoon the matter of increases in salary for the members of the Territorial judiciary, for Governor Frear and for Secretary Mott-Smith was taken up. Numerous suggestions were made in regard to the amounts to which the various salaries should be raised but no decision was reached. The president was authorized to appoint a committee of three, who should look into the matter closely and report at the next regular meeting of the Bar Association, which will be held on Wednesday, November 27.

Yesterday morning the members of the committee, Messrs. M. F. Prosser, A. G. M. Robertson and D. L. Withington, called on Governor Frear to ascertain his views in the matter. They held quite a lengthy interview with the Governor but no decision on the matter was reached. The committee will hold other meetings and will prepare a schedule of salaries such as it believes equitable for the various positions.

The salaries at present in the various positions in which it is hoped that increases will be made are as follows: Governor, $5000; Secretary, $3000; Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, $5500; Justices of the Supreme Court, $5000; Judges of the Circuit Court, $3000.

WILL ASK THAT FLEET BE SENT TO HAWAII

One of the principal reasons for which Governor Frear will attend the Trans-Mississippi Congress as the special representative of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce is to urge upon the meeting the passing of a resolution pointing out to Congress the necessity of the Atlantic fleet extending its Pacific cruise to at least as far from the San Francisco base as the Hawaiian Islands. He will ask that this request be included in a vote of commendation on the action of the Navy Department in despatching the fleet on its practice cruise to the Pacific.

The matter of endorsing the resolution of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce regarding Pearl Harbor will also be taken up and urged. The endorsement of such a gathering, representative of the business interest of the entire West, would be the strongest backing along that line that the Pearl Harbor matter could have and is certainly well worth pressing for.

KONA CONVEYANCES.

A series of conveyances affecting Kona property were filed for record yesterday with Registrar Merriam.

Another was a lease from J. B. Castle to the Captain Cook Coffee Company of all the land of Kalamakumu lying makai of a stone wall described. The lease is for twenty-five years at an annual rental of $300 for the first fifteen years and $400 a year for the remaining ten years.

A third conveyance is a lease from J. B. Castle to the Kona Agricultural Company of a part of the land of Kauhako for fifteen years at an annual rental of $50 a year for the first five years, and $100 a year for the remaining ten years of the term.

Commercial News

By Daniel Logan.

Hawaii is not likely to be hit hard by the depression now spreading upon the mainland, which is the natural consequence of the enormous financial shrinkage entering in Wall street. Even on the mainland the agricultural conditions are not expected to suffer greatly. The interests of this Territory are almost wholly agricultural and, for the coming year, there is the double expectation of a record crop of sugar and prices for that commodity better even than the improved market of this year over last. What this means an idea of may be had from a study of the trade returns for the eight months ending August 31, 1906 and 1907. Of brown sugar Hawaii shipped to the mainland in the 1906 period mentioned 686,294,465 pounds, and in the 1907 period 681,770,174 pounds, a decrease of 4,524,291 pounds, yet the value of the 1907 export was $23,370,051 against $21,043,099 for the 1906 period, an increase of $1,226,952. The value of refined sugar marketed in the 1906 period was $1,250,235 and in the 1907 period only $23,990, yet the totals of "sugar, molasses and confectionery"—which include but insignificant quantities of molasses besides brown and refined sugar—still exhibit a handsome advance for the first eight months of this year. For 1906 the total was $22,893,863 and for 1907 $23,194,043, an increase of $300,180. As the one plantation here refining its sugar this year altered its plant to the standard of a thorough refinery, besides contracting to refine the crop of one or two other estates, the figures of refined sugar will show a decided change next year.

Co. 6's, 100; $8000 Olan 6's, 90.25; $6000 Paia 6's, 100.

Cane sugar has stood at $78 a ton, while the parity of European beet has advanced from $78.60 to $79.20.

E. Pollitz and E. M. Walsh, representing the San Francisco directors of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co., are here to investigate the condition of Kihel plantation, in connection with the proposal for its absorption by the larger company.

SOME PUBLIC MATTERS.

With the new loan the Territory's outstanding bonds amounted, at the end of October, to $4,002,000, on which interest of $102,790, or $446 a day, is payable.

Governor Frear, after hearing a deputation of local bankers, agreed that bank certificates of deposit would be received for taxes for sixty days and cashed by the treasury only as the coin was needed. The day the bankers called they had received a cablegram from San Francisco stating that, during the financial stringency there, Honolulu drafts would be paid in clearing-house certificates. In former years, at tax-paying seasons, the local banks imported treasure from San Francisco against exchange balances, but in the present straits of their correspondents over there they accept the arrangement advised by cable.

Business men responded to an appeal from the tax collector, to pay their taxes before the penalty date of November 15, so well that on Tuesday and Wednesday an aggregate of $85,000 came in, which added to the treasury balance of $90,000 obviated a feared necessity of registering treasury warrants.

Land matters for long pending between the Government and Makee Sugar Co. have been satisfactorily settled. An exchange of some acres is made and it is agreed that, since the expiration of the old lease for thirty years, rents from sub-lessees belong to the Government, the company being only entitled to the growing sugar cane crops on the land used by itself. Where the Government used to receive $300 from the ancient lease, it now has rents of $10,000 a year accruing.

Governor Frear leaves this week for Washington to press Hawaiian interests upon the federal statesmen, also to place himself more personally in touch with the executive departments for the future advantage of his administration. The Governor will also represent the Chamber of Commerce at the Trans-Mississippi Congress.

Endorsements by commercial bodies and public men on the mainland continue arriving by every mail, to the Pearl Harbor improvement resolution of the Chamber of Commerce.

Plans are well advanced for the duplication of houses for officers and men at Fort Shafter, the Honolulu garrison of the U. S. Army. A complete electric plant will be added to the equipment of the fort.

Marston Campbell took office as Superintendent of Public Works on the 1st inst., and has appointed C. H. Kluegel as departmental engineer.

Many Portuguese and Spaniards, who recently arrived, are declaring intention to become citizens so as to qualify for taking up government land homesteads.

REAL ESTATE.

James F. Morgan yesterday sold at auction the residence property of C. V. E. Dove at Puunui, Honolulu, Dr. C. B. Cooper being the purchaser for $5100. The property represents an investment to its late owner, who sold on account of departure, of about $12,000.

A. V. Gear's property on Emma street has been bought by Charles H. Thurston for $3200 including a mortgage on the place.

Transactions lately recorded are as follows: Deed from C. W. Hill and wife to executors estate C. E. Richardson, three lots at Olan, $4000; deed from Wong In and husband to Pang Loy, interest in Kekaulike street property, $1000; chattel mortgage by K. Shikayama to H. Haeckel & Co., Ltd., merchandise, etc., Honolulu, N. Kona, $2300; chattel mortgages (2) from W. J. Moody to Kahului Railroad Co., buildings, machinery, etc., Kahului, $1851.23 and $2000.

GENERAL ITEMS.

J. K. Clark of Honolulu has invented an improved turbine engine, especially adapted to automobiles.

Cattle on the ranches are in excess of the present market demand.

The Kona Agricultural Co., in conjunction with the Kona Development Co., and the West Hawaii Railway Co., has authorized an issue of $1,000,000 of bonds, for the purpose of railway extension. At first $500,000 will be issued, of which $200,000 is already placed. Besides conveying sugar cane to the mill of the K. D. Co., the railway will be a common carrier of passengers and freight. With track already built it will be thirty-two miles in length, with a seaport connection on Kealahou Bay, and is expected greatly to develop the resources of North and South Kona, Hawaii.

Taking example of the enterprise of corporations in rubber planting, the native Hawaiians on Maui are entering the same industry upon their lands. They are also going extensively into pineapple culture.

NO TRUSTY'S JOB FOR HART

It's one thing to ride in an automobile to set a house afire and another to like through the city streets in stripes to crack rocks, and it was probably the realization of this truth that took Lionel R. A. Hart, erstwhile dandy and now convict, to the office of High Sheriff Henry in Oahu prison, the other day, to make a request which, while it may have appeared simple enough to him, struck philosophical Henry something as a surprise.

"I would like to have a position as a trusty," said Hart, bowing slightly.

"It takes several years of good behavior, usually, to attain that distinction," replied Henry, in effect, when he was able to recover from the shock of the nery request. "You are only a beginner here and it seems to me that you have a pretty light sentence as it is. You must remember, my lad, that you are no better than any other prisoner. I think a little work out of doors will do you good."

So it was the quarry for Lionel.

Hart stalked out of the High Sheriff's office and back to the bench under the big tree in the prison yard where several new-found associates awaited him, curious to learn the outcome of his interview with the warden.

"Told yer not to make a break like that," remarked one; "you ain't any better'n the rest of us."

Hart had had visions of being appointed a trusty and perhaps put on the prison books to keep account of the provisions and requisitions. Whether or not he would have offered letters of recommendation from previous employers and could have furnished bonds was not shown, since Henry nipped his ambitions in the bud. It would have been enough to touch the heart of comedy had Hart been entrusted with the accounts and it should later develop that he had juggled the kerosene supply or burned the bread receipts or butcher's tags.

"He can't be my bookkeeper," said High Sheriff Henry to a representative of the Advertiser yesterday. "I am of the opinion that Hart got off very easily and I do not believe that he would in any way be benefited by making him a trusty before he has proved himself worthy of trust. He is here to be punished and he should not be treated at the start in such a manner as to make him forget that he is a prisoner. It is not discipline to make a trusty of a prisoner until he has shown that he is good material for such trust. Hart has only just been sent here under my care and I mean to see that the object of the law is carried out in his case as in all cases under my charge."

The day following Hart's sentence to three years' imprisonment for malicious burning in the second degree, setting fire to the kerosene warehouse, he was ordered out with the gang to break rock at Makiki quarry. With shaven head and striped blouse and trousers he was marched under the guard of armed and mounted men to the government stables where wagons took the convicts out to Makiki and Hart with the rest was put to breaking stones. To be sure he was not expected to do in his first day's experience as much as old hands could accomplish and he was not rushed or harried, but he was expected to keep busy and he did keep busy. When he returned to his cell for the night his back was stiff and painful from the unusual exercise and his hands were blistered. Many times had he sought the waterbucket during that first day's work and many were the sighs drawn from the body so long used to pampering luxury. He, who had been used to taking a hack to ride a block, who was always perfumed and polished, nonchalant and dandified and petted, suffered as he never suffered before.

"He'll get used to it gradually," says High Sheriff Henry, "and we take care that for the first week or two a novice does not hurt himself on the rock pile."

Hart received his first callers yesterday, since he commenced his sentence, when his mother and two other ladies together visited him.

In illustration of the discipline which requires that able-bodied men be sent out to work, and the mercy that does not compel those unable to do so to wield the hammer, there is an aged Oriental who is in for nine months because he had the misfortune to be found with a piece of bad money in his clothes and Warden Henry has found work other than rock-breaking for him to do, something less energetic.

NINE MONTHS MORE FOR HIM.

HILO, October 31.—Akana, alias Lum Kong, the Chinese cook employed by J. E. Metcalfe of Papakou, who levanted with his employer's clothing and afterwards stole a horse from Brughell, will serve in all twenty-one months in jail for his escapades. He got a year for the horse stealing and as Metcalfe refused to prosecute him further, an information was laid against him for larceny in the second degree by the sheriff. No evidence was called as the prisoner pleaded guilty and Judge Hapai added nine months to the former sentence.
